Definition of Bullying

Bullying is identified as the systematic abuse of power by one person or a group of people over another person or group, which is deliberately intended to hurt, threaten or frighten another person or group of people. It is usually unprovoked and is often repeated and can continue for a long period of time. Bullying can include a wide range of behaviour. This may include:

- Physical aggression: hitting, kicking, pushing, taking or damaging belongings;
- Verbal: name calling, mocking of accents, sarcasm, nasty teasing or spreading rumours
- Racial: racist taunts, graffiti or gestures.

- Emotional: deliberately leaving someone out, tormenting (e.g. hiding books, threatening gestures) or ignoring someone
- Non-verbal: 'dirty' looks, gestures or staring

Cyber Bullying and Online Safety

Cyberbullying is the use of technology to harass, threaten, embarrass, or target another person. Online threats and mean, aggressive, or rude texts, tweets, posts, or messages all count. So does posting personal information, pictures, or videos designed to hurt or embarrass someone else.

Cyberbullying also includes photos, messages, or pages that don't get taken down, even after the person has been asked to do so. In other words, it's anything that gets posted online and is meant to hurt, harass, or upset someone else.

Please refer to our Online Safety Policy for further information.

Child-on-Child Abuse

Temporary Workers should be aware that children can abuse other children (referred to as child-on-child abuse) and that it can happen both inside and outside of school or college and online. Child-on-child abuse is the term chosen by the DfE and, by definition, it applies to abuse by one child of another child – regardless of the age, of stage of development, or any age differential between them.

Child-on-child abuse can take various forms, including but not limited to:

- Bullying (including cyberbullying, as described above)
- Hate incidents and hate crimes
- 'Teenage relationship abuse' i.e. abuse within a personal relationship between two children/young people
- Physical abuse
- Racism
- Initiation/hazing type rituals
- Harmful Sexual Behaviour (i.e. sexual behaviour that is developmentally inappropriate and/or which is harmful or abusive)
- Sexual harassment (including online)
- Misogyny (i.e. an ingrained dislike or prejudice against women and girls)
- Misandry (i.e. an ingrained dislike or prejudice against men and boys)

In line with this statement:

- All bullying, of any sort, (including on-line bullying, child on child abuse) is therefore unacceptable and will be treated seriously. All actions will be in line with our Positive Behaviour Management Policy.
- Pupils who experience bullying will be supported.
- All incidents of bullying are reported and recorded.
- We recognise the effects that bullying can have on pupils' feelings of worth and on their schoolwork, and we will actively promote an anti-bullying environment.
